About Lauren Clem

Clem grew up playing multiple sports in her youth and high school careers before earning a scholarship to Northwestern University in the Big Ten Conference. She was a 4-year starter, a Captain, earned All-American and Scholar All-American Honors, and is NCAA 3rd All-Time in Career Shutouts with 48. Lauren's love for the game led her to a Professional Career in Sweden. She is back in the U.S. for the summer to give back to youth players through private trainings and small group sessions while continuing to train herself.

About Private Sessions

Trainings vary from 1-2 hours of face-paced, high-intensity skill work for both goalkeepers and field players. Trainees will learn the importance of dynamic warmups, the tactical side of the game, basic ball control skills, and advanced techniques through drills and fun games.

Clem is Founder and Administrator of Clem's Goalkeeping and Striking Camp (2015-2019) and has 6 years of private and small group training.
